COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course aims to make opera more enjoyable and understandable. This survey course will examine the development of Western opera and selected Western operas with their related literary texts. By watching and analyzing opera, the students will learn to understand the relationship between music, literature, drama, and culture. Prior knowledge or experience of Western opera or classical music is not required.

COURSE OBJECTIVES AND INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES:

On completion of the course, the students will be able to

- describe the development of Western opera
- understand the interrelationship between music, literature, drama and culture
- understand the elements of exoticism in western opera
- analyze the structure of scenes
- critique production quality
- coordinate team activities
- give and take direction and constructive criticism
- communicate orally applicable to presentation
- express their own talent and creativity

COURSE MATERIALS

Course materials will be available at CANVAS

PERFORMANCE:

All students will be involved in an evening performance/presentation, details to be announced. TBA date being considered is November 29.

OPERA REVIEW:

Students will be asked to view a live opera performance and submit a performance review of a minimum of 1500 words. Several Opera companies and arts festivals will be performing a variety of repertoire in Hong Kong this term. This can be planned to attend as small groups (perhaps dinner before or after)!

Current offering:

Opera Hong Kong: Aida by Giuseppe Verdi – October 10-15
MusicaViva: L'elisir d'amore by Gaetano Donizetti – September 29 & 30
La Boheme by Giacomo Puccini – December 8-10

ATTENDANCE:

Attendance will be taken randomly 13 times throughout the twelve weeks after the add-drop period. You may miss three classes without penalty, but starting from your fourth absence, one percent will be deducted for each absence (10% maximum deduction).

EXAMS:

NO make-up exam or test will be offered. If you miss the midterm, the total score will be transferred to the final exam (i.e. the weight of final exam will become 50%).

Midterm date: OCTOBER 24th, IN CLASS (date subject to change).

ONLINE QUIZZES:

These five quizzes are designed to help you prepare for the exams. They are based on the lectures slides, the operas, and the reading.

ACADEMIC HONESTY:

If you are being dishonest in the course, the penalty is an F for the COURSE.

Cheating: a) If you look at other students' papers or materials (ex. notes) during exam or test.

b) If you claim credit for other students' work in group projects.

Plagiarism: If you copy sections from a source without referencing it.

Excerpt from <http://www.ust.hk/vpaa/integrity/>

“If you are discovered cheating, however minor the offence, the course grade will appear on your record with an X, to show that the grade resulted from cheating. This X grade stays with your record until graduation. If you cheat again and "earn" another X grade, you will be dismissed from the University. In serious cases, your department may ask the Student Disciplinary Committee to look at the case. The Student Disciplinary Committee can require you to do campus community service; take away your eligibility for a degree with honors, or scholarships and prizes; suspend you from the University, or simply dismiss you right away.”
