HUMANITIES 2590
The Making of the Modern World:
Renaissance to the Present

[Draft Syllabus: Please note that this is the syllabus from Spring 2018. The final syllabus for Spring 2019 will be similar though not identical.]

INSTRUCTOR
Joshua DERMAN (hmderman@ust.hk)
Office: Room 3352

COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course surveys the major ideas, political developments, and cultural movements in European societies from the Renaissance to the collapse of Communism, and beyond. It aims to provide undergraduate students with foundational and thematic knowledge of European history, as well as an understanding of the ways that European politics, culture, and economy have been shaped through encounters with non-European societies—through cultural and commercial exchange, imperialism and de-colonization, Cold War rivalries, and globalization. In the spring semester of 2018, the course emphasizes two macrohistorical questions: Why were European societies able to project economic and political power throughout the world between 1500 and 1900? How did the interaction between nations and empires structure European developments in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries? The course is aimed at students from all backgrounds; no prior acquaintance with history is presupposed.

Intended learning outcomes include:
1. Grasp the major ideas, political developments, and cultural movements in European societies from the Renaissance to the present, as well as an understanding of the ways that European politics, culture, and economy have been shaped through encounters with non-European societies.
2. Acquire familiarity with some of the major interpretative paradigms and theories for explaining long-term change in European societies and their relationships to the rest of the world.
3. Learn to conceptualize historical change in a comparative and long-term framework, and not simply in terms of individual events, persons, and dates.
ASSESSMENTS
Participation: 10%
- Attendance is mandatory and will be checked randomly at eight intervals during the course of the semester. For each absence without a legitimate excuse (e.g. illness, academic conflict, etc.), 1% of course grade will be subtracted. All students are required to meet with the course instructor after receiving their graded midterm paper. The purpose of the meeting is to review the comments and discuss strategies for improvement. Failure to attend this meeting will lead to a loss of 2%.

Midterm examination (conducted in class): 20%
- Multiple-choice questions, map questions, identification questions

Midterm paper: 20%
- 7 pp. analytical paper based on assigned readings; topic announced in advance

Final paper: 25%
- 7 pp. analytical paper based on assigned readings; topic announced in advance

Final examination: 25%
- Multiple-choice questions, map questions, identifications

ASSIGNED TEXTS
The textbook is available for purchase in the university bookstore and on 2hr reserve in the library: Joshua Cole and Carol Symes, Western Civilizations: Their History & Their Culture, Brief Fourth Edition (New York: Norton, 2017).
- The book can also be purchased in a digital version from the publisher’s website: http://books.wwnorton.com/books/webad.aspx?id=4294991902
- You should feel free to use an earlier edition (2nd or 3rd). There are no significant differences in content. However, please be aware that chapter 12 in the Fourth edition is equivalent to chapters 11 & 12 in the Second and Third editions.

All other assigned readings are available as PDFs on the course’s Canvas website. You are encouraged to print them out and annotate them instead of viewing them on an electronic device.

Since the lectures are largely thematic and analytical, the textbook assignments are intended to provide orientation and background, and to serve as reference when you prepare for the exams and papers. To get the most out of lecture, it is recommended that you complete the textbook reading before the relevant lecture.

A section of each week’s lecture will be devoted to discussion of the document reading, if assigned. The day on which it will be discussed is indicated on the syllabus. Please complete this reading before that date and be prepared to discuss it in class.

The internet is a wonderful resource; it contains an endless amount of information. Some of it is accurate. Much of it is dubious. A lot is plain wrong. Most of it will be irrelevant for the purposes of this class. Looking things up on the web can be at most a supplement to—but not a substitute for—completing the assigned readings. You are not expected to do any outside reading for either the exams or the papers.
EXPECTATIONS

- If you are forced to miss an exam or paper deadline due to illness or other emergency, you must provide a doctor’s note or equivalent; otherwise a make-up test or extension cannot be arranged. Without a legitimate excuse, late papers will be docked 5 points (out of a total 100) per day.
- Once the paper topics are announced, we will discuss proper practices for academic citation, quotation, and paraphrasing. Please be aware that this course enforces a zero-tolerance policy on cheating and plagiarism. If a student is found to have cheated on an exam or paper, the case will be referred to the head of the Humanities Division and potentially further up the chain of university administration.

COURSE OUTLINE AND READING ASSIGNMENTS

Feb. 2: Introduction and overview

Feb. 7: Explorers and conquerors
Feb. 9: The revival of antiquity
  - Western Civilizations, chap. 12

Feb. 14: Religious reformations
Feb. 16: No class
  - Western Civilizations, chap. 13

Feb. 21: War making and state building
Feb. 23: The old regime and its alternatives
  - Western Civilizations, chaps. 14 & 15

Feb. 28: Europe and the early modern world
Mar. 2: The scientific revolution
  - Western Civilizations, chap. 16

Mar. 7: The Enlightenment
Mar. 9: French Revolutions
  - Western Civilizations, chaps. 17 & 18
Mar. 14: Empires in Europe and overseas
Mar. 16: The great divergence
- Western Civilizations, chap. 19

Mar. 21: Midterm exam
Mar. 23: States and nations
- Western Civilizations, chaps. 20 & 21

Mar. 28: Globalization and imperialism
Mar. 30: No class
- Western Civilizations, chap. 22

Apr. 4: No class
Apr. 6: Mass Politics and mass society (Paper due)
- Western Civilizations, chap. 23

Apr. 11: The First World War
Apr. 13: The graveyard of empires
- Western Civilizations, chaps. 24

Apr. 18: Stalin's Revolution
Apr. 20: Fascism and National Socialism
- Western Civilizations, chap. 25

Apr. 25: The collapse of the postwar settlement
Apr. 27: Nazi empire and genocide
- Western Civilizations, chap. 26
- Mark Mazower, Dark Continent: Europe’s Twentieth Century (New York: Knopf, 1999), chap. 5 [Apr. 27].

May 2: The Cold War and decolonization
May 4: Eastern Europe and the collapse of the Soviet Empire
- Western Civilizations, chaps. 27 & 28

May 9: European integration and disintegration
• Western Civilizations, chap. 29

May 15: Final paper due